

MCA AWARDS 2019 ANNOUNCEMENT

Good news for ICC in the Management Consultancies Association (MCA) Awards 2019 Shortlist

Inner Circle Consulting (ICC) have been announced as finalists in two categories for the MCA Awards 2019 – Best New Consultancy and Team Leader Consultant of the Year. To make it onto the shortlist, Inner Circle had to demonstrate: their client focus, delivery excellence, commitment to their people, and operational excellence; and exceptional performance in building and leading project teams of consultants and working effectively with clients in the role as Team Leader.

Director Jamie Ounan said, “The MCA Awards are highly coveted in the industry and competition is fierce from all UK consultancy firms. We’re delighted to be shortlisted in both of the categories we’ve entered. I’m especially pleased to have been nominated for Team Leader Consultant of the Year.”

As part of the submission process, we mentioned our extensive work with Local Authorities and how the relationships we have with clients are built on mutual trust and respect. Jamie said, “Many of our clients regard us as strategic partners that work alongside them to provide internal leadership, capacity, and capability. It’s personal. We commit, both feet. We don’t give up, we don’t let down; unless they stop, we will deliver.”

At ICC, our strength is our staff. Director Chris Twigg said, “We know that we’re only as good as our staff, so we spend a lot of energy to keep them motivated, happy, committed, and curious. Being shortlisted for awards such as the MCA Award is testament to the pride we take in our team.”

Good luck to all our fellow nominees. See you at the Awards Dinner at the end of March.
